MARCIA JAMES, Business Manager

Foreword

We, the Staff, have attempted to immortalize our fondest memories of bygone days at Roper on these pages, in hopes that as we follow our separate paths through life, we can recall and live again our happy training days.

Dedication

To Mrs. Holcombe, whose high ideals and standards have been instilled into the hearts of everyone of us and whose love of her profession and endless efforts have been an inspiration for us to create a more perfect training school, we respectfully dedicate this publication of the Tres Anni with the hope, that we, in this small way, can show to her our deep appreciation for what she has accomplished as leader, teacher and friend.

CAROLYN F. HOLCOMBE, R. N.

In Tribute

To the Senior class of 1946, we wish to express our congratulations and sincere hopes that we and future Seniors will be able to carry out the high ideals and standards set forth by you in the first publication of the Tres Anni.

In Memoriam

Robert W. Wilson, Sr.,
A.B., M.D., LL.D., D.C.L., Dean

Frances Le Jau Parker,
Ph.D., M.D., Professor of Chemistry

John M. Settle, M. D.
Teaching Fellow in Gynecology and Obstetrics

My Pledge and Creed

Reverently do I pledge myself to the whole hearted service of those whose care is intrusted to the hospital.

To that end I will ever strive for skill in the fulfillment of my duties holding secret what-so-ever I may learn touching upon the lives of the sick.

I acknowledge the dignity of the cure of disease, the safeguarding of health in which no act is menial or inglorious.

I will walk in upright faithfulness and obedience to those under whose guidance I am to work and I pray for patience, kindness and understanding in the holy ministry to broken bodies.

OCTOBER CLASS HISTORY

Time and tide wait for no man and yet, while we are marking off the days of our last year at Roper we, at the same time, begin to become more conscious of the remaining days to be shared together. Although we are enjoying our senior year we find ourselves even more eager to turn back the pages of time and recall again and again those most joyful memories that shall linger in our hearts forever.

Our arrival on October 12, 1944 had been anticipated by many. This was evident as we later found out because Mrs. Hussey had Main home shining as only it does every four months.

The first thing on our schedule for the day was chapel which began promptly at six forty-five with Miss Crabb in charge. It was at this first meeting that we found the talented pianist of the group and since then Betty Day has been our maestro.

Our first meal together will be remembered by a most dramatic episode. While standing in breakfast line, Goff's knees buckled and she met with the floor. Could it have been that "Van Johnson" intern or was it the savory odor of the kitchen?

Hallowe'en ushered in the first event on our social calendar. This brought to light the less serious side of the intern. Can anyone ever forget Eli Brooks and Beverly Salvo doing the snake dance? What a pair!

As time went on, we found our beloved Miss Hall a true friend. Although we must have tried her patience with our "bob-bing curls," she stuck with us all the way through Nursing Arts I. It is to her and Miss Bates that we owe our foundation and principles of good nursing.

Christmas crept upon us to find us doing eight hour duty. Just to make Santa Claus more than a dream forgotten, we had three days vacation. Christmas morning we joined the graduates and older students on a tour through the hospital singing the ever loved Christmas carols.

February heightened our status. Plans great and small revolved in each girl's head. Some of these plans were the making of piebeds, brewing of fantastic ward stories, and changing of furniture so that we might have the best. The latter was to no avail. Mrs. Hussey informed us that each piece of furniture was to be returned to its proper place. "Lee Lee" and "Lou" chose midnight to return their dresser. When Miss Crabb investigated the noise she found the dresser suspended between second and third floors. It was a shame the entire class had a week's restriction! However, Steadman entertained for the group with her mountaineer jesting and imitations of Loretta.

It wasn't long before Miss Hall called us together to inform us that she was leaving. It would not be exaggerating the story to say that every girl shed a few tears. To show our love and appreciation to "Aunt Lou" we gave her a string of pearls and sent her off to New York with the prettiest orchid we found.

Then came the night we all dreamed about! What a rush getting shoes polished and our first bibs ironed to perfection! The occasion? We were at last getting that little white cap better known as our dignity. Could we ever forget April 5, 1945?

Our first anniversary was celebrated by going out to Coburg's Dairy. We had the most hilarious time, and after four hours of fun, we piled into the station wagon and drove back to Roper singing at the top of our voices.

Returning from our second vacation in December found some of us venturing to Obstetrics, Pediatrics and the Operating Room. Classes were in full swing again and we had plenty of studying to do, but along with all the work and studies, we had our fun. We'll never forget the day one of our bright classmates asked Miss Malloy for the Daisy Bogin machine, meaning, of course, the Bogan-Davis machine! And girls, remember the time another one of our classmates in the O. R. went "donging" into the bucket for a lost sponge. Yes, and all scrubbed up too! Oh well, life's little embarrassing moments.

In March, we received our first black band in a small ceremony over in Annex A.

April found us saying goodbye to Keuper, "Mac" Anderson, Aiken Mays and many others whom Uncle Sam was claiming as his nephews. Our hearts were low as we welcomed our new interns and residents.

It was in July that we decided things were moving too slowly, so after putting our heads together, we set July 5 as the date for a class party. This time it wasn't to be a "hen party" but a watermelon cutting at the graduate nurses home on Folly Beach. The party and Dr. Upchurch will be remembered by the explosion of the fire cracker in the bus.

Summer drifted along with many enjoyable evenings spent in Roper's "baseball stadium." We nurses still think we're the best ball players although the "Medics" have different ideas.

Our third and last vacation found many of us going to all points, but to whatever spot, everybody reported a good time.

So as we have come to the end of another year and our goal of achievement is so near we have a deep satisfaction in knowing that we have almost completed our training period. Now that goal is taking on a shiny appearance. Never-the-less while we are striving to "make the grade," let us not forget to enjoy life and to keep our class spirit, not only during Senior days, but long after parting goodbyes have been said.

BEQUE

1. To Miss Duncan, an alarm clock that will sound off each night at 7 o'clock.

2. To Dr. Mood, a loud speaker, so that he can be heard in Micro classes.

3. To Dr. Eddie Parker, a special nurse to assist him in donning his operating room gown and gloves.

4. To Miss Parnell, that good-looking dark-complexioned male she's always dreaming about.

5. To Dr. Beach, a handy little pocket-sized maid to help him get ready for ward rounds each morning.

6. To Mrs. Ritter, a pair of skates, so that she can roll everyone in on time at night.

7. To Dr. McQuown, a package of bobby pins to put up his hair at night.

8. To Dr. Fouchè, a small handy motor scooter so that he can ride to and from and around the hospital.

9. To Miss Corley, the perfect scrub nurse, so that she can stop "doinging" those forceps around the instrument table.

10. To Dr. Bridges, a joke book with nice clean jokes.

11. To Dr. Davis, all the little Davis' the stork can carry—sextuplets maybe.

ATHED

12. To Dr. Pinner, a bottle of Archie's best beer and a 5c cigar.

13. To Dr. Bentley and Dr. Gantt, a copy of the latest "Household Hints."

14. To Mrs. Hussy, a mechanical maid to clean the nurse's home night and day.

15. To Dr. Switzer, a daily news bulletin direct from the wires of Roper to aid him in keeping up with all the very latest hospital gossip so that by the time the news reaches other points, the correct "story" will be in line.

16. To Miss Ross, a night watchdog to accompany her on her nightly tours around the hospital grounds.

17. To Dr. Simpson, a piece of chalk to have handy for his dates.

18. To Dr. Paulling, a week that has two Thursdays instead of one, so that he will be able to get his orthopedic surgery done on time.

19. To Miss Chamberlin, a student body with scholastic records of straight A's so that she can stop worrying about "See me" notices.

20. To Dr. Josiah Smith, a dozen beach houses so that he will never have to refuse the many requests made by the students.

21. To Miss Eaddy, a student capable of preparing toast and chocolate syrup without burning it.

UNIVERSITY PROGRAM

On September 9, 1946 we welcomed into our midst Miss Mary Louise Campbell, the first student to be welcomed under the University program.

This contract was signed between the University of South Carolina and the School of Nursing of Roper Hospital on March 11, 1947 and provides for a course leading to a B. S. degree. The joint program calls for two years of pre-nursing at the University followed by thirty two months of clinical work at Roper Hospital. When all requirements have been met the student will receive a B.S. degree in nursing from the University of South Carolina.

We delighted in having Miss Vera McCown, Director of Nursing of the University of South Carolina as our guest at the capping ceremony on January 24, 1947 at which time Miss McCown presented Miss Campbell with her cap.

On January 15, Miss Daisy Flowers, Miss Gilda Robinson and Miss Sophie Wells, three more university students were admitted to the Preliminary Class.

Here and there on the wards we see the girls in yellow and the school is proud of the excellent work they are doing.

A HEARTY WELCOME TO YOU, UNIVERSITY FRIENDS!!!

SUPERLATIVES

These nine seniors have been chosen by the members of their class for their high ideals who, through their personalities, loyalty and service have carried the touch that make the true spirit of our profession.

MY CAST AND I

My cast and I
Are solid friends,
But its loyalty
Too far extends.
My neck it chafes;
My back it rubs;
It's made me allergic
To showers and tubs.
My spinal cord
It practically covers;
We're close enough
To be two lovers.
It breaks my speed;
It slows me down;
How those kids stare
When I'm downtown.
It's rough, Brother,
That I must pay
For a few wild oats,
But fate's that way.
Now I suffer
And the world can see
What that propeller
Did unto me.
But it's a cinch
We'll part by and by,
Till then we're friends
My cast and I!

THE GREEN YEARS

The Green Years. . . . what could better describe those first months and better still that first year?

It takes but little time to recall those first homesick nights. Remember?

Beginning classes—how hard everyone studied and never a vacant chair could be found in the library. And what about the day we got our uniforms? Of course, hardly a one fitted, but we lost no time in parading them in the dining room at the next meal.

And who could forget that night before we were to go on the ward the next morning! Did anyone sleep more than an hour? Perhaps in that one hour and a half spent on duty that morning, we realized just how green our fields were going to be.

These and a thousand other personal experiences have made us what we are today and what we all hope to become—intelligent and unselfish as mates in a great profession.

The Green Years. . . . what pen could justly write of them? Surely no more than one backward glance into the past is needed to recall those happy and yet sometimes sad student days. And from our backward glancing we can ever look forward to a new tomorrow filled with hopes and promises that will be fulfilled from the rich experiences we have gained from our Green Years.

Dear "Little Sis,"

You know I'm not very good at making speeches or writing letters, but now that I will soon be a graduate (ahem!), I thought that I would like to get a little serious for once. I'll never be able to tell you just what it means to be leaving. I've been looking forward to this day for so long but now that it is here, I almost wish I were a "probie" again.

How I'll miss the uniform, the bell at 6 a.m., long lunch lines and our unforgettable "hen parties." Come to think of it, I guess there's not anything I won't really miss. All of it has been my life for these last three years—not ever to be forgotten!

Work hard, Little Sis! Wear your uniform with dignity and pride and through your actions may others see you as a true nightingale! It takes courage, persistence and good health to go through the three years of training but I have found that there is no better reward than knowing that I have become an integral part of a great profession.

I'm leaving it all in your hands, Little Sis, and I know that you will carry on with the same bright spirit that has been Roper's for all these years.

Here's wishing you loads of good luck.

Your loving "Big Sis"

LETTER OF APPRECIATION

"What is life and living if not this—to live together, love together and then to part." Have these not been our experiences during these last three years? It is with sincerest hope that these three phases of living here at Roper will be recalled time and again in the years to come. May this—the second edition of Tres Anni help you to do this!

To find words suitable to express my appreciation to my staff would indeed be a futile task, but to them goes my heartiest congratulations for their timeless effort, ingenuity, originality and cooperation in making this year's Tres Anni what we hope will be a lasting record of events that will become fond memories in "by gone days."

Many thanks to Miss Chamberlain, faculty advisor, for her guidance and advice. Orchids to Miss Brewton, advisor to us and the editor of the first Tres Anni, for her many needed suggestions in reviewing the material for the "dummy".

To Mrs. Shaw, photographer at Kerrison's, and her co-workers, may I tell you how valuable your services were to us? You did a superb piece of work; we are proud of our pictures. Thank you, too, for the personal favors and friendship shown us.

We extend a hand of thanks to Miss McMinn and Mr. Brown, our roving photographers from the photographic laboratory at the Medical College. Many an hour of their free time was spent making and developing pictures and even remaking pictures that this annual would be the year book we had dreamed of.

And now to the staff of Walker, Evans and Cogswell, we say "thank you" for your best and for the courtesies rendered the editorial staff. We think Mr. Keller Cogswell deserves a handshake from each one for his endless efforts to please us when this book was in the making. And hearty thanks to Mr. Altman, the printer, for his advice and instructions in preparing the material for publication.

The knowledge and experience that we have gained from these people and many others unnamed has indeed been a rich experience. It has been a great privilege and pleasure to serve as editor of this 1947 Tres Anni. And so my staff and I present this book with the hope that it will be a treasured momento of our training days.
